Your Way Away

SAMPLE CHECKED 7 NOV 2026

Porto

3–4 days: Ribeira, the Dom Luís bridge, port cellars and a Douro cruise

Photo:

Porto over a long weekend: colourful Ribeira on the river, the iron Dom Luís I bridge, the azulejos at São Bento station, the Lello bookshop, port cellars in Vila Nova de Gaia and a six-bridges cruise. On foot, by metro and on a vintage tram. Book everything yourself and keep this guide on your phone: it works offline.

At a glance

ID card is enough

Portugal is in the EU and Schengen: Czech citizens need only a valid ID card or passport (Czech MFA)

Checked

Lello: ticket needed

the Lello bookshop charges admission; buy timed tickets online

Hills

the city is steep: wear sturdy shoes

−1 h

time difference from Central Europe

May–Sep

the best months: least rain

EHIC

the European Health Insurance Card is valid; travel insurance is still recommended

Tags: Checked confirmed with a current source on the date on the cover · Estimate approximate value.

Day by day

1

Friday: Ribeira

The Ribeira waterfront, then across the bridge's upper deck to the Serra do Pilar viewpoint at sunset.

2

Saturday: the centre

São Bento station, the cathedral, Clérigos Tower, the Lello bookshop and Bolhão market.

3

Sunday: Gaia

A port cellar tasting and a six-bridges cruise, then fly home.

4

... and 1 more days, day by day, in the full guide

What you will see

Photo: Josep Renalias, CC BY-SA 3.0

Ribeira

Colourful houses on the Douro, a UNESCO site.

Time: 2 hours

Photo: Deensel, CC BY 2.0

Dom Luís I Bridge

A two-deck iron bridge with the metro on top.

Time: 1 hour

+ 4 more places with photos and tips in the full guide

The full guide: Porto

11 pages, in English and Czech. Checked on the date on the cover.

- The whole route day by day, with nights in each place
- When to go, month by month
- Every place with photos and how long to spend
- Getting around, where to stay, money and food
- Manners, safety and a before-you-go checklist
- Official links and sources

Buy the full guide for €5

Your Way Away · personal travel guides