What you will see

Wat Arun, Bangkok

The Temple of Dawn rises above the Chao Phraya river, covered in porcelain mosaics. Cross on the small ferry from Tha Tien and come late afternoon, when it glows in the low sun.

Time: 1–2 hours

Grand Palace and Wat Phra Kaew

The former royal residence and the Emerald Buddha temple. It is the most important sight in the country, so go at opening time. Shoulders and knees must be covered.

Time: 3 hours
